I live in Mullumbimby I dont want this to increase in size ..they are lucky to even have this site ..the idea was for one small music festival splendour in the grass not megga music festivals ..thats the only reason they got any initial support from the community in the first place ..actually very few people in the community actually supported it ..now its just money for international promotion companies....mega noise ...mega traffic.. mega problems .Tell the promoters they can go out west of the state somewhere where no one lives nearby and the local community might get some benefit ...So are you with the people who live here or dont you care about us ,, thats the only relevant question..Len Bates Mullumbimby
