I live outside area but have family who have been severely impacted over the past four years. The whole process has been horrific, no one believed it could possibly be approved! we trusted the system! big mistake. It is only now someone is listening thank you. I think GHD have set the standard of how not to treat community when bulldozing planning permission. So dismissive. Can not be believed that she'll be right. There is not one reason why this is good for Moss Vale. They say they have ticked all boxes so what, it's still the wrong site. You have a very important role, community first. Ironically Wollongong has two suitable sites, and this industry so badly needed would be a fit.
