I do not understand why such a large chemical and industrial facility needs to be built so close to a major residential area. The pollution (traffic and chemical) that will result and potential risk of occurring is extreme. There is so much land available in the state - why was this site deemed the most suitable? I would put my house that all these decision makers would also be objecting if such a facility was proposed within the vicinity of their homes. For God's sake please use some common sense and relocate this plant to a more suitable region.
