As a member of the local community, mother of three children and someone who grew up in the southern highlands I strongly object to the proposed plan. In this day and age, knowing what we know about the impact of such facilities on our environment, our wellbeing and our health, I find it absolutely heart breaking that the government has given this the green light. To see this come to fruition would be a great sadness and loss to our beautiful community. It is truly shameful but I remain hopeful that our voices will be heard
