The site is the wrong location.

Environmental contamination to Sydney drinking water risk is far too great. To even consider this location is beyond comprehension.

The fact people have limit their time outdoors to avoid health problems surely speaks volumes. Has the government department completely lost the plot?

There are much better options to located this activity. Re cycling is a must all can agree but it must be done responsibly and in the right location.

There is a lot more we can go on with but that fact that the government would risk millions of people's health is staggering.
