I am a regular visitor to this region and strongly oppose this development.

The developer has a criminal conviction in his own country , the majority of the profits will therefore go overseas and his environmental studies into such a project has not been submitted with any detail or thought.

I am so tired of our government's allowing foreign money and investors ruin our beautiful country.

Also living in Sydney we have recently had a plastic recycling factory go up in flames and although this was not built in residential area the toxic fumes to a large number of suburbs and communities was of great concern.

How dare this even be proposed in the middle of residential community.

If you are a true government that wants to stay true to their word then you need to listen to the people our voices need to be heard.

I am a strong believer in recycling however there are plenty of places this could be built that would not affect communities as this one will.
