Plasrefine is an untested and scaled up heavy industry factory located within 2 km of the Moss Vale PO. It will bring pollution from across the country in an untested manner via 130 trucks per day past schools and people's homes. The sheer scale of this project has not been tested anywhere in Australia. It has the potential to pollute air, water and humans living within its vicinity. Any organization that recommends people stay indoors on windy days to avoid contamination is clearly out of step with community expectations with health and environmental standards.
