I lived in Southern Highlands for 7 years and now my daughter and her family live there. It is beautiful and quiet country site. Placing there a busy industrial factory will change the are for much worse. Roads are not design for adiiirional heavy traffic, local fire servises are not adequate to handle potential and likely to happen fire hazards, local waterways are likely to be polluted. The imvestors do not have any practical experience with this type of operations so there is a high likelihood that things may go in a wrong way there. The concept of recycling plastic is a smart and needed idea, but siggested location is very wrong.
