I am a young adult who has grown up in the Southern Highlands area. I often travelled to the city where my father resided and have enjoyed returning again to the country after visiting Sydney. Should the large recycling and storage facility be built in Moss Vale it would have a terrible effect on the quality of the air, water and farmland which has been my home and where I hope to continue to live in a clean environment, with clean air and water, which is a human right.

The Plasrefine proposal would violate my human rights that allow me to live in a clean environment. The SSD proposal is an inappropriate heavy polluting industry that would contaminate the soil, water and air of the Southern Highlands and is a huge ugly building whose plan reveals it is too close to the Garvan Institute that supports medical research, too close to the SLRX Southern Regional Livestock Exchange which is our cattle saleyards in the top ten of the state of NSW, too close to our agricultural producing farms and businesses which rely on tourism Southern Highlands attractions such as our clean country views.

Please do not violate my human rights by approving this terrible polluting industry.
