I am concerned about this development for a few reasons and in particular the affect of micro pollutants on moss vale residents, I think telling people to limit outdoors activity is an abhorrent justification for allowing pollutants into the air and infringes on the rights of residents. I also believe that the traffic impacts are major given that the trucks will be travelling on one road which was not designed for this purpose. If maccas can't be open 24 hours then how can a plastics factory be open travelling past residential properties with a road that is at best a country road and not buoy to withstand trucks. Moss vale is already struggling under the weight of one major road through town and development approved without long term infrastructure to support it. Land courts making decisions without considering local impact is a terrible injustice to of local development and environment plans.
