It is broadly appreciated that there is a need for more plastic recycling facilities in Australia. However, it is also broadly understood that these kinds of facilities should not be situated in such close proximity to residential and commercial areas. Moss Vale is only growing in residential numbers. This means that, over time, Plasrefine's potential for negative environmental, traffic, land use and social impacts will only increase. This is short-term thinking at its worst. The community is making it loud and clear that it is NOT THE RIGHT SITE.
