I write this submission to object in the strongest possible terms to this proposal.

The location is horrifyingly close to local community, the local environment that the Southern Highlands is valued and famous for and too close to schools and playgrounds, food growing farm land and waterways.

Would this be considered to be a heavy industrial Development? If so, is this location even legal? Have more suitable sites in less populated areas been explored?

Who approved it? Do they know the area? Was due process observed? Did they take advantage of an absent Wingecarribee Council?

Logic and common sense begs a rethink regarding this Development.
