As a visitor and supporter of Stony Range Botanical Garden I am greatly disturbed that consideration is being given to increasing the height of this building. The fact that Stony Range even exists and thrives in its urban location is due to the wonderful volunteers who tend this garden. We are always being told that we do not have enough tree canopy and if this wonderful plot of nature is further assaulted by high rise it will certainly not thrive as it has so far. I find it difficult to believe that an increase in height is even being considered.
